Have School Board Over-looked This?

Either many of the school boards have overlooked the new law concerning distribution of school books, or they have failed to report their action to their county superintendent or the State School Book Commission.

The law of 1913 provides:

First.—The school district, by a majority vote, may buy the school books furnish them to the pupils free.

Second.—The schools district board or boards of the education may set aside revolving fund from which the district clerk shall purchase books, selling them to pupils at cost and returning the money received to the revolving fund.
Orders must be sent to the Secretary of the School Book Commission.

Third.—The school district board or board of education may designate some dealers or dealers to handle the books for that district, in which case said dealer shall be allowed a commission of ten per cent. All dealers so designated must make application to the Secretary of the School Book Commission, accompanied by an agreement endorsed by the county superintendent of his county.

These provisions for distribution of books apply to books printed by the state only. The adopted books the contracts for which have not expired are still handled in the same manner as before.

Address all communications for information to A. M. Thoroman, Secretary State School Book Commission, Topeka, Kansas.

Recently a woman remarked that she was tired of "Weary Wilson" because he had not declared war before this with Mexico. That woman has several brothers any one of whom might have been drafted into service and not one of whom owned a foot of land or even an interest in Mexico. Would she want them made a sacrifice for the very men who would have watched blood shed without so much as lift a finger to shoulder a musket? Would she rather wait until the man lower down was given a chance to make something out of himself?
Would she not rather wait until the man in Mexico who really needs protection will get it if the plans of the President carry. Of course the capitalist wants this thing settled and it should be, but not at the benefit of the one alone. The waiting may be weary for a few but it would have been infinitely more so had a nation's young been called to the gory front.

Now is the time of year for the fly catcher and mosquito killer to get off the usual joke of "cutting off" their heads to get rid of them.

One good thing about the primary law is that no politician or individual for that matter, can consistently make a kick if the favorite individual is not chosen in a caucus. Any one may file for any office and one does not have to wait for a man or body of men to say he shall or shall not make a race for any special office.
And any man who makes a kick because a certain man or fellow is running for office, ought to either keep still or to have gotten out and circulated petitions for his favorite. Don't be sore headed if you can't run things all the time. Occasionally some one beside yourself may have a think or interests that he may like to look after.

A new motto which is going the rounds and which is appropriate now is, "The blamed fool didn't know it couldn't be done and went ahead and did it." That is probably the reason that a lot of people succeed.
